President Has Dinner Outside Hospital Room For First Time

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, able to dine outside his hospital room now, looked forward to a social visit today with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff.

The White House said the two old service friends planned no discussion of national defense problems, and added they would be joined by their wives at the late afternoon meeting.

"It will be purely social," said James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary.

Taylor, named chief of staff by Eisenhower a few months ago, is on an inspection tour of U. S. military installations.

Montgomery To Call
Tomorrow the President will be visited at Fitzsimons Army Hospital by another old comrade in arms, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Great Britain, deputy commander of North Atlantic Defense Forces in Europe.

Then on Sunday the President will get definite word whether he can leave the hospital and fly back to Washington a week from today, as planned tentatively by the physicians at Fitzsimons.

The word will come from Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted Boston heart specialist, who is flying to Denver this weekend for his fourth examination of the President since he was stricken with a heart attack Sept. 24.

Stop-Off Rest
If White gives a go-ahead for a Nov. 11 discharge from the hospital, Eisenhower will rest that weekend at the White House in Washington, then travel on to his country home at Gettysburg, Pa., for further convalescence.

So far the President's return toward normal activity is right on the schedule which White and the Fitzsimons doctors forecast — first nearly a month ago and then again two weeks later.

Discards Wheelchair
The President now has discarded his wheelchair and is being permitted to walk anywhere he pleases on his floor, including out onto the sun deck. He did so for the first time yesterday, and he also dined outside his room for the first time.

For luncheon of prime ribs of beef, Eisenhower, in pajamas and a robe, walked about 60 feet from his own room to one which members of his family and White House aides have used occasionally as a dining place. He was joined there for the meal by the First Lady.

College Dean Speaks

Walker, of York, president, there was a brief program featuring college personnel.

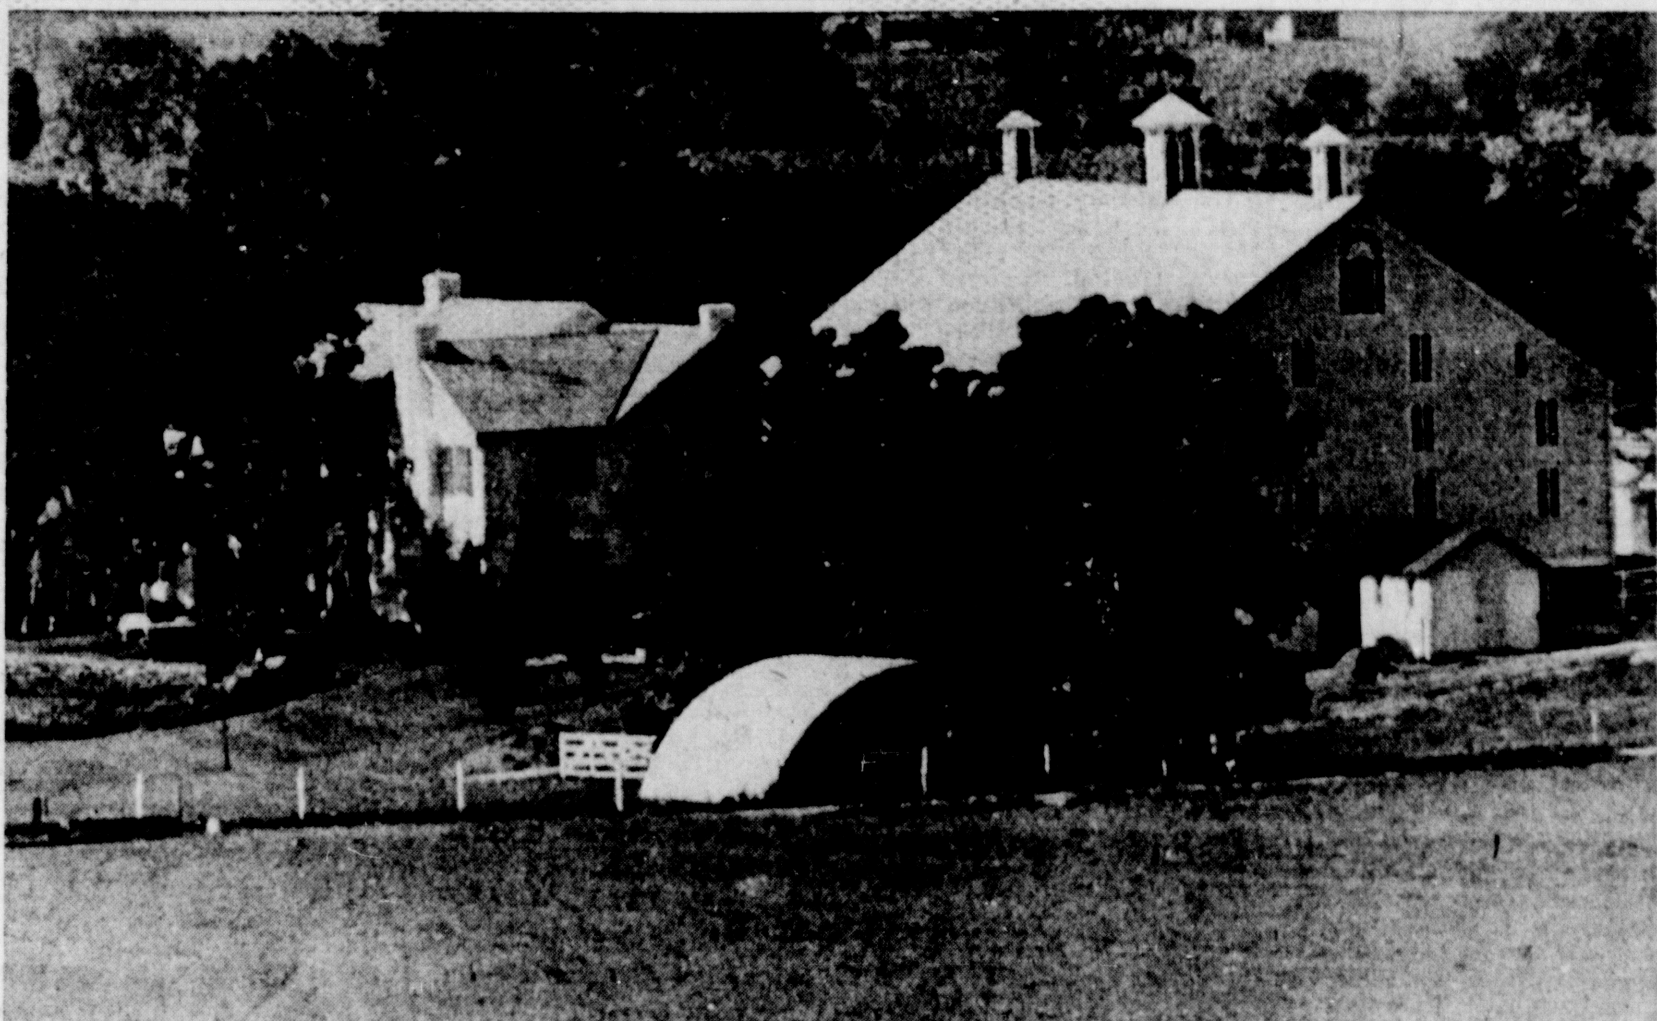

Dr. Seymour B. Dunn, dean of the college, spoke on various aspects of campus life and activities. Luncheon was served in the college dining hall.

Young Slayer Of His Mother And Nine Other Tough Cons Tunnel Out Of Penitentiary

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A mother-murderer and nine other tough inmates of the tumult-ridden Washington State Penitentiary escaped last night after weeks of tunneling through seven inches of concrete and 30 feet of earth.

The escape was discovered at 7:30 p.m. change of guards, an estimated two hours after the 0 men had crawled through the 30-inch wide tunnel to liberty just outside the west wall.

And hours later, despite a wide-spread cordon of scores of police assisted by four bloodhounds, no trace of the men had been found except tracks a half mile from the gaping hole in the prison side.

The tracks, leading into the surrounding rolling wheatlands, were multiple, and associate Warden David Gerechiet said he believed the convicts had remained in a group at least that long.

Back in the prison the guards found a neat circular slab chiseled from the seven-inch-thick concrete floor of one of the cells. It led into an unused dirt floor basement. The

GUY MICKLEY, BARBER FOR 50 YEARS, EXPIRES

Guy William Mickley, 75, a barber in Gettysburg for a half a century, died suddenly this morning in the Blocher apartments on Chambersburg St.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by a coronary occlusion.

A native of Cashtown and a son of the late John Alfred and Clarissa (Blocher) Mickley, he had begun his career as a barber here in a shop located on Chambersburg St. where the Grant store is located. When the National Garage was built at that site many years ago, he moved to the store where the Bix-Sway is now located and, with the late William King as a partner, operated a shop for many years. Later he moved his shop to the present location of the MacDonald Co. and then many years ago moved to the location on Chambersburg St. where he ended his barbering career about a year ago. He often noted that, while he had moved fairly frequently, he had "done all of the barbering on Chambersburg St."

Closed Shop Year Ago

Illness forced him to close his barber shop a year ago. At that time he had expressed the belief that he might some day resume when his health improved.

He resided alone in an apartment near his shop, adjoining an apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn P. Diehl. In recent months he kept a cane to knock on the wall between the two apartments to summon the Diehls when he needed their aid.

This morning they heard the pounding about 5 o'clock and went to his room where they found him ill. A physician was summoned. Death came about 5:45 o'clock.

Funeral On Monday

He was the husband of the late Myrtle Hoke Mickley. He is survived by two sons, John Hoke Mickley, of Hollywood, Fla., and William Blocher Mickley, of Iron Springs. One sister, Mrs. Charles Heilman, of Iron Springs, and two grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Allison Funeral Home, Fairfield, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, Gettysburg. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening after 7 o'clock.

Unification Of Germany Fails Because Russia Balks Alliance

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP) — A dead end of total disagreement on the unification of Germany loomed today before the Big Four foreign ministers' conference.

He told the parley the great powers will face an "increasingly explosive situation" in Germany if they do not find a speedy solution to the unification problem.

But more than two hours of argument yesterday failed to produce any evidence that the beginnings

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
Thousands See Local Parade On Halloween: Several thousand Gettysburg and Adams county residents crowded town streets on Thursday evening to witness the largest Halloween parade staged here in a number of years. The celebration was sponsored by the local post of the American Legion with LeRoy H. Winebrenner, a member of the post, serving as the chief marshal. Wilbur J. Stallsmith, former burgess, headed the Legion's committees on arrangements.

More than 500 masked and costumed celebrators who ranged in age upward from 10-months-old Terry Dwight Hartlaub, Gettysburg, R. I. who won first prize as the smallest marcher in the column, participated.

John C. Broom Fills Vacancy On Draft Board: John C. Broom, Highland township, farmer and former associate judge of Adams county, was appointed today to fill the vacancy on Draft Board No. 2 caused by the resignation of William White, a farmer of near Fairfield. The appointment of Mr. Broom by President Roosevelt was announced at Harrisburg by Governor Arthur J. Eames.

36-Yr. History Of D.A.R. Here Is Outlined: Reports of the state conference held at Lancaster last month made up the greater part of the program of the November meeting of the Gettysburg chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. S. Saby, Carlisle St. The regent, Mrs. C. E. Billheimer, presided and called for the usual reports.

Inasmuch as November is the birthday month of the local chapter, the historian, Mrs. John A. Mumper, read the history of the chapter. It showed that the chapter was organized on November 3, 1904, numbering 19 with Miss Virginia McCurdy as regent. Two annual customs were established the first year — that of the prize for an essay written by a senior in the high school and the benefit on February 22. In 1911 the state conference was held here and in 1912 the chapter took over the care of McClellan's graveyard and later of Black's.

Miss Chamberlain Weds J. B. Wible In Local Church: At 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Gettysburg Methodist Church, Miss M. Evelyn Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Chamberlain, 229 Chambersburg St., and Joseph B. Wible, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wible, Mummasburg Road, were united in marriage. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. Perry Bucke, pastor, before a gathering of relatives and friends of the couple that filled the auditorium.

Miss Helen Chamberlain, Gettysburg, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Victoria Chamberlain, a sister of the bride; Miss Emily Wible, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Louise Mundorf, Gettysburg, and Miss Clara Cook, New Oxford.

E. Bradley Wible, Philadelphia, served as best man. The ushers were H. William Phelps, Gettysburg; Professor George F. Gutmann, of Gettysburg College; James H. McIlhenny, Washington, D. C., and Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg Road.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school and was graduated from the Central Pennsylvania Business college at Harrisburg in 1936.

Mr. Wible is a graduate of the local high school and in 1931 was graduated from Gettysburg college. He is employed as resources investigator at the Adams county office of the Department of Public Assistance.

Today's Talk

TAKE THE TIME!

I have two hobbies at least that have given me joy and recreation for more than thirty years. Whenever I have told some people about them, and showed the results that have meant so much to me, in so many cases I get this remark: "But where do you find the time to do these things?" My answer is that I take time.

I have a friend who talks beautifully and fluently in French. One day I asked him how this came about. He replied that he took the time to learn this language on odd evenings after returning from his newspaper duties, for he was a reporter. This experience brought him many an assignment that he would not have had otherwise.

We can do so much in a little time! I once intrigued a reader of these Talks into reading a single book that I suggested. He had never read a book. Some years later he wrote to me and said he had read and collected a fine library of 400 books! He just took the time that brought this result about — and with it a joy he had never suspected.

What a familiar phrase that one in these words "Oh, I never have the time to do such things." We have far more time than any of us put to use. Time is the freest thing in this world, outside the air that we breathe to keep us alive. But reading, study, adventure, good cheer and enthusiasm make us glad that we are alive! You can find time anywhere. And you can partake of it to any amount you choose. As a matter of fact, it is forever waiting for you to take all that you want. It took time to build the great pyramids, but I would rather have written the great Gettysburg address than Abraham Lincoln composed, in simple words from his great heart! He took time in his youth to so read and think that he could express himself in that immortal prose.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Take It — and Smile!"

PHILADELPHIA CANDIDATES IN STRETCH DRIVE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrat Richardson Dilworth and Republican W. Thacher Longstreth today polished up their last minute appeals for support in next Tuesday's Philadelphia mayoralty election with the outcome of more than passing interest to both major parties.

A victory by veteran campaigner Dilworth would be looked on as an indication that Gov. Leader's administration still possesses considerable strength that could be carried over to next year's presidential election. Leader led the Democrats back into power on the statewide level last year for the first time in 16 years.

By the same token, a Longstreth win would put the state's largest city back once more in the GOP column. The Democrats, paced by Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr., captured the city in 1951 after 67 years of Republican City Hall domination. And control of Philadelphia is vital from a standpoint of statewide political activity and highly desirable in the eyes of the major party leaders looking to next year's presidential candidate picking.

Dilworth Is Favored
Dilworth, who resigned as Philadelphia district attorney to run for mayor, is an experienced politician, considered by his backers a top-heavy favorite.

Longstreth is a political novice who never before sought public office. His only previous political experience consisted of ringing doorbells when Dwight D. Eisenhower was running for the presidency.

The Philadelphia mayoralty race is far and away the big feature of Pennsylvania's election show. Elsewhere in the state the issues and the candidates are strictly of local interest with the possible exception of Allegheny County (Pittsburgh). There a spirited battle was waged for district attorney with Republican James F. Malone, the incumbent, pitted against Democrat Edward C. Boyle.

Seeks Second Term
Malone, seeking a second term in a heavily Democratic county, campaigned primarily on promises to continue a fight against racketeering. Boyle, who once served four years as U. S. attorney for western Pennsylvania, stands on his record in that office.

While there are no statewide offices at stake, one big question to be answered is just how much Gov. Leader's regime will influence voter thinking in choices to fill county courthouse and city hall posts across the state.

Republicans, who now control courthouses in three of every four counties, scoff at Democratic claims that the party's 1954 gubernatorial victory will carry into this year's municipal election.

The issue of what sort of statewide tax is to pay for the commonwealth's budget needs will be a factor in the balloting. Gov. Leader has pushed for an income tax, possibly based on the amount of federal income tax paid by the individual. The Republicans have, by and large, favored a state sales tax. Also expected to influence the voting is the series of attacks made by Leader on President Eisenhower and his administration.

CONDITION IS GOOD

Secretary General Of U.N. Submits Plan To End Fight Between Israeli And Egypt

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld took a direct hand today in seeking to settle the boiling border dispute between Israel and Egypt.

Hammarskjöld called in representatives of the two countries last night and submitted a plan calling on Egypt to pull her troops out of the El Ajla demilitarized zone. It also urged the setting up of a permanent demarcation line in the disputed region.

Spokesmen for Egypt and Israel said they were cabling the proposal to their home governments.

U.N. officials expressed hope Hammarskjöld's peace plan would reestablish order in the area, the scene of what has been described as the most serious fighting since the 1948 Palestine War.

The secretary general conferred earlier with the permanent representatives of the United States, Britain and France and was understood to have received their endorsement before going ahead with his proposal.

Hammarskjöld also consulted in advance with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N. Palestine truce chief who is now en route back to the troubled holy land.

The secretary general expressed grave concern to Israel over the attack in the demilitarized zone Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, the Western Big Three waited for clearer reports on the situation as they pondered whether to bring the issue before the U.N. Security Council. Observers believed that the Big Three would await the reaction of Israel and Egypt to Hammarskjöld's plan before making any move to convene the Council.

The three nations declared in 1950 that if they found any Middle East country was preparing to violate frontiers, they would "immediately take action, both within and outside the U. N."

SPENCER SUFFERS UNTIMELY DEATH

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — State Rep. Henry C. Spencer (R-Lackawanna) died at his home yesterday. The 54-year-old representative was a candidate for county commissioner in next Tuesday's election.

The Republican county committee is scheduled to meet today in an effort to find a substitute for Spencer in time to get the substitute's name on the ballot.

Spencer's death leaves the house with 97 Republican members and 112 Democrats. He was the second member of the General Assembly to die during the current session.

The other was Sen. Patrick J. Toole (D-Luzerne) who died in Harrisburg several months ago.

Treated For Cancer

Spencer had been ill and had undergone surgery for cancer in Philadelphia. Funeral services will be held Monday at Spencer's home in Greenfield Twp. Burial will be in Willow View Cemetery, Clifford.

Spencer was one of two Republican candidates for county commissioner. The other was Charles Harte. There are also two Democratic nominees—Joseph Conrad, former Scranton postmaster, and incumbent Michael Lawler.

To the Voters of Adams County:

Many lawyers, who were members of the Legislature and who engaged in the general practice of law, have been elected Judge and have served with distinction. My father, Judge Donald P. McPherson, was one of these.

During my seven years in the State Senate, I have dealt with hundreds of changes in the laws of Pennsylvania, and this experience would be invaluable to the people of Adams County where such laws will be interpreted and enforced.

Bullets Expect Toughest Opposition At Delaware Saturday; Game At 1:30

"Undoubtedly our toughest game of the season" is the way Johnny Yovicin, Gettysburg College football coach, characterizes Saturday afternoon's clash between the Bullets and Delaware Blue Hens at Newark, Del. The game, which will start at 1:30 o'clock, will be broadcast over WGFT.

Yovicin's observation is well borne out in the season performance of the Blue Hens. Delaware has trounced Baltimore, Lafayette, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rutgers while losing only Lehigh. The smashing 33-7 triumph over highly-regarded Rutgers last week has established Coach Dave Nelson's squad as a favorite over the Bullets.

Both Lehigh Victims
Against that the Bullets pit a 4-1 record with wins over Bucknell, Albright, Muhlenberg and Lafayette, and, like Delaware, have lost only to Lehigh.

In commenting on the forthcoming game Yovicin said, "This is another must for us. Delaware will have the added 'lift' of playing before a home crowd. We are in pretty good shape for our toughest battle."

Foremost in the potent Delaware offense is Jimmy Zaiser, a fleet halfback, who has scored eight touchdowns to date and has a total offense of 449 yards. Bob Hooper, quarterback, has 379 yards to his credit on completing 32 passes in 65 attempts and five touchdowns.

Gettysburg top offensive aces are Frank Gagliardi, who has connected on 30 of 51 aerials good for five touchdowns and 499 yards, rushed for 108 yards and has scored three times. Frank Capitani is second with 320 yards and six TDs.

Last Of Series
Saturday's game will be the "rubber" game in the series between the schools which will be terminated, at least temporarily, with the game. Each school has won five and lost six many.

Last year the Bullets edged Delaware 14-13 in a thriller here which will give the Hens an added incentive for victory.

The Bullets squad of 36 players left this afternoon at 2 o'clock for New Castle, Del., where they will stay overnight at a motel.

Big Crowd Will See GHS-Carlisle Tilt Here Tonight

A standing-room-only crowd is expected to jam the Gettysburg High School football field tonight when the Warriors square off with unbeaten Carlisle in a South Penn Conference game at 8 o'clock.

Upwards of 1,000 students and fans will accompany the Thundering Herd here to root their favorites toward the league title. Although Carlisle is a heavy favorite to remain unbeaten, the Warriors concede nothing. They improved greatly in their last two outings and are hopeful of springing a surprise against the Cumberland Countians.

Last Home Appearance
Making their final home appearance will be the following seniors: Merle Gorman, Don Smith, Roland Keller, David Weaver, Dale Biessecker, Russell Potter, all linemen; Glenn Weishaar, Fred Furney, Dick Stough, Joe Tonsel, Forrest Stouck and Tim Crouse, all backs. Bob Bonduant, senior tackle, was forced out of action several weeks ago due to injuries. Joe Diering, end, will not be eligible next year.

Other South Penn games tonight include Waynesboro at Chambersburg, and Hershey at Mechanicsburg.

In the only other scholastic game listed in this area this evening, Littlestown meets Carson Long on Memorial Field, Littlestown, at 8 o'clock. The Bolts are favored over the Cadets in their attempt to resume winning after having a 13-game streak snapped last Saturday at Red Lion.

John Harman accounted for both Biglerville scores. In the third period he plunged over from the 1 and in the last period broke away for a 60-yard TD gallop around end.

During the season, which ended with the game, Coach Roderic Laird's outfit won two and dropped three.

Included in Biglerville's lineup were: Ends, Eckenrode, F. Showers; tackles, L. Harman, R. Baltzley, J. Showers; guards, Slaybaugh, Wisotzky; centers, Wagner, Gentzler; backs, Johnson, C. Shaffer, May, Kuhn, Jacoby, Breighner, J. Harman.

DELONE SCRUBS STAY UNBEATEN; DEFEAT HANOVER

Lloyd Washington, of Gettysburg, scored three times to lead the Delone High reserves to a 33-6 victory over Hanover's scrubs Thursday night at McSherrystown. He tallied twice on 20-yard runs and was on the receiving end of a 25-yard aerial for the other score.

In the opening period Washington ran 20 yards on an end sweep to hit pay dirt. Larry Hockensmith fired a 30-yard pass to Wierman for the Squires' second tally in the second frame.

Another pass by Hockensmith, this time to Washington, was good for a third score early in the second half. Earl Mann tallied later in the third period on a three-yard plunge.

The final Delone score in the last period was Washington's 20-yard off-tackle scamper.

Hanover scored on the final play of the game, Earl Culp taking a pitchout to go over from the 5.

Delone's reserves won all three of their games during the campaign and the only score against them was Culp's TD.

Johnson Favored Over Bobby Boyd

CHICAGO — George Johnson, Trenton, N. J., middleweight, rules a 7-5 favorite over Chicago's Bobby Boyd tonight in what should be a free-swinging, action-crammed 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

Johnson's only loss in five scraps this year was to Ralph "Tiger" Jones and he has an overall record of 26 victories in 38 starts, 22 by kayoes.

Boyd, 21, showed marked improvement in upsetting Gene Fuller at the stadium last month to gain his fourth straight triumph of the year. He has won 35 of 43 fights and fought two draws. He had polished off 14 foes by knockouts.

Tonight's bout, televised nationally, replaces the originally scheduled title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Bobo Olson. It was postponed until Dec. 9 at the Stadium when Robinson injured his ankle in training.

George Mitchell took a Chambersburg punt on his own 30-yard line and raced 70 yards for the winning touchdown with only 30 seconds of play remaining to give the Gettysburg Junior High football team a thrilling 20-14 victory over Chambersburg here Thursday afternoon in a South Penn Junior High League game.

The play was almost an exact duplication of one which resulted in a defeat for the Braves last week at Hanover.

Joel Riddlemoser turned in the key block for Mitchell who raced down the side-line after several other blockers turned in fine work to clear his path.

The triumph enabled Coach Ned Brownley's lads to turn in a 2-4 overall season record.

Maitland Tallies
The Braves tallied twice in the opening period. After receiving the opening kickoff, Gettysburg drove to the Gladiators' 11-yard line from where Gary Maitland went off left tackle to score. Maitland's try for the point failed.

Late in the quarter Gettysburg took over on the visitors' 30 and moved to the 3 from where Mitchell shot through right tackle to tally. Mitchell plunged for the point.

Chambersburg surged back with two scores in the second frame to take a 14-13 half time lead.

Hugh Crittenden, who tallied both Gladiator scores, raced over from the 40 and later sprinted 22 yards. Both extra points were booted by John Douglas.

During the early moments of the final period the teams battled and forth, Chambersburg finally forced to kick on fourth down with 30 seconds remaining. It was then Mitchell got away on his game-winning sprint, the game ending after the following kickoff.

YANKEE HORSE MAY BE CHAMP IN 1956 OLYMPICS

By JOHN CHANDLER
NEW YORK — The U.S. Equestrian Team, as well as the spectators, is keeping a close eye these days on a 5-year-old jumper at the National Horse Show who may be an Olympic champion of the 1956 games.

The horse is Riviera Wonder, property of Bernie Mann, Port Washington, N.Y., restaurant owner, and at present leading in points for the coveted open jumper championship at the Madison Square Garden Show.

Riviera Wonder is a son of the great jumper of former years, Bonne Nuit, and his dam is Winter Rose, a steeplechase mare who won 16 straight races. This makes Wonder a full brother to Miss Budweiser, who represented the United States in the last Olympic games.

Wins 11 Points
Riviera Wonder has won two classes, and has 11 points toward the jumper title. Others in the wide open battle include two with eight points each. They are Star Fire owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Sadtler of Indianapolis, and Diamond from the stable of Eleanor R. Sears, Pride's Crossing, Mass. Velvet Lassie, the Harrisburg, Pa., champion owned by Mrs. Hubert R. Thomas of Indianapolis, is one of four horses with five points.

In the international jumping, the U.S. team finally came through on the third day of competition yesterday and won both events to put the Stars and Stripes ahead of Mexico, Ireland and Canada, each with one victory.

At the time of his death Barry was honorary chairman of Knight Newspapers, Inc., which include the Beacon Journal, the Miami Herald, the Detroit Free Press, the Chicago Daily News and the Charlotte Observer.

The late C. L. Knight, former editor and publisher of the Beacon Journal, the late Forrest S. Seymour, former circulation manager, and Barry formed a team which worked together for years in building the Akron newspaper.

TOWNSEND OFF FOR BRUSSELS; LOST ROMANCE

LONDON (AP) — Group Capt. Peter Townsend, rejected suitor of Princess Margaret, left England today to return to his job as British air attaché in Brussels.

The 40-year-old divorced air hero drove his car from Uckfield House in Sussex — where he and the princess said farewell last week-end — to the airport in Kent and boarded an air-ferri service plane.

His leave from Brussels expires on Monday. Townsend previously told newsmen he didn't intend to leave England until at least Sunday.

Townsend came to England Oct. 12 from Brussels and saw the 25-year-old princess nearly every day until she issued her statement Monday night saying she was placing duty to God and country before her love for him and that they would not marry.

"Relaxed, At Ease"

He did not see her again before his departure.

Reporters were not allowed within 20 yards of Townsend at the airport. He appeared relaxed and at ease.

Princess Margaret last night joined other members of the royal family at a glittering presentation party given by her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, at Buckingham Palace.

It was the first social function for the 25-year-old Princess since she announced she would not marry divorced commoner Peter Townsend.

Two Fugitives Will Face Murder Trial

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Ernest Lindsey, 22, and Kenneth Phillips, 28, both Pennsylvania convicts, go on trial Feb. 6 in connection with the slaying of a California man.

The pair are charged with the first degree murder of Herbert Dietler, 62, of Lawndale, Calif. An autopsy established that Dietler died of gunshot wounds. His body was found in a shallow grave 15 miles southwest of here Sept. 22.

At the time of the slaying the men were fugitives from the Pennsylvania State Prison. They will go on trial before District Judge S. J. Lewis.

Milkman Prefers Horse-Drawn Cart

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Milkman H. A. (Ole) Palmgren, who retired after delivering milk on the same route for 29 years, says wagons drawn by horses were best.

U. S. SLASHES RED TRADE ITEMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is looking to Russia for the next move after cutting some of the red tape which hobbles East-West trade.

The Commerce Department announced late yesterday it is dropping a number of peaceful items from a list requiring special licenses before shipment to Russia and the European satellite countries. After Jan. 1 they can go under general blanket licenses.

Obviously anticipating that move, Secretary of State Dulles told the Geneva foreign ministers meeting Monday he had "arranged for progressively simplifying certain of our operating procedures" on East-West trade and added:

"We shall await with sympathetic interest the suggestions which the representatives of the Soviet Union may make upon this subject."

U. S. trade with Communist countries is a drop in the bucket compared with the total 15 billions dollars worth of goods shipped abroad each year by this country. In the 12 months ended last December, for example, about six million dollars of exports went to the Soviet bloc although the rate is increasing.

U. S. SLASHES RED TRADE ITEMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is looking to Russia for the next move after cutting some of the red tape which hobbles East-West trade.

The Commerce Department announced late yesterday it is dropping a number of peaceful items from a list requiring special licenses before shipment to Russia and the European satellite countries. After Jan. 1 they can go under general blanket licenses.

Obviously anticipating that move, Secretary of State Dulles told the Geneva foreign ministers meeting Monday he had "arranged for progressively simplifying certain of our operating procedures" on East-West trade and added:

"We shall await with sympathetic interest the suggestions which the representatives of the Soviet Union may make upon this subject."

U. S. trade with Communist countries is a drop in the bucket compared with the total 15 billions dollars worth of goods shipped abroad each year by this country. In the 12 months ended last December, for example, about six million dollars of exports went to the Soviet bloc although the rate is increasing.

2 Administrations Accused Of Holding Non-secret Data

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials in both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations have put blocks in the way of a fully free flow of information from government agencies when the information did not involve national security.

Both Democrats and Republicans, depending upon which of them was running the government at the time, have accused each other of suppressing legitimate news.

Newspapermen — particularly through the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., have banged away at the government, seeking to force out more information.

In the past two days the Eisenhower administration got a double jolt on this score: From a congressional committee and from a special report of the American Civil Liberties Union which studied the problem.

Open Public Hearings
And next week the House committee starts public hearings in its investigation of alleged news suppression. That investigation will last into 1956.

During the Korean War — in low. This year the Democratic-run Government operations Committee of the House instructed a subcommittee — headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) — to investigate the whole government's handling of information. Monday it begins hearings.

Issue Long Summary
But in getting ready for these hearings Moss' group last summer sent a list of 80 questions to 63 executive agencies about their information policies. . . . on Wednesday the subcommittee issued a 532-page summary of the replies.

This summary showed that about 30 classifications have been added by the individual agencies to the three which Eisenhower authorized.

Here are some of the classifications being used by agencies to keep information away from newsmen and the public: Not for publication; official use only; for administrative use only; for official distribution; administratively restricted.

Yesterday the ACLU produced its report on government suppression of news. It had commissioned a New York newspaperman, Allen Raymond, to do the job because freedom of information is basic in the ACLU's work and operations.

Raymond turned out a highly critical study. He said: "Invisible government is now worse than at any time in many years. These abuses have curtailed the power of the press and of Congress itself to be of service to the people by finding out what goes on in government."

The report said it is a fair consensus among Washington correspondents that abuses of the power in federal agencies to suppress information of value and interest to the nation were "never so rampant as now."

That meant the Eisenhower administration was worse than Truman's in holding back information. While he was at it, Raymond took a crack at Congress for the many times its committees make important decisions on legislation behind closed doors which prevent the public from knowing who said or did what.

LEADER STANDS SOLID ON HIS SCHOOL PLANS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Leader administration is standing firm in support of a proposed sweeping reorganization of the state's administration school structure despite strong objections from some quarters.

Roy Schafer, an assistant to the governor's legislative secretary, said today that the administration has not altered its stand behind the proposed legislation that has been before the Senate Education Committee since Sept. 26.

It carries bipartisan sponsorship including that of two school administrators.

"We still like the plan and there hasn't been any change at all in our position. It may not go through but we are certainly still trying to get it through," Schafer said.

The plan would result in greater centralization of administration with the creation of regional service areas in place of the present county setup. It would eliminate the job of county superintendent in favor of 32 or more regional superintendents.

Opposed By Superintendents
Most of the opposition has come from the state Assn. of County School Superintendents.

Wednesday the association held its second special meeting on the bill and decided to abandon an earlier decision to attempt to amend or rewrite the measure.

"There was not sufficient time to arrive on agreement on the proposed amendments," explained Hobart A. Farber, Lehigh County superintendent and president of the organization. "There were many different ideas on the amendments and it was hopeless to do a good job at the eleventh hour."

On Oct. 17 the association decided to seek five specific changes in the bill.

When introduced Sen. Hays (D-Centre), a co-sponsor and supervising principal of the State College schools, estimated the changes would save the state half a million dollars every two years. The superintendents organization disputes the claim.

Gov. Leader gave the bill his support Sept. 29, saying it would "obtain equality of educational opportunity for every Pennsylvania youngster."

"We concluded that if the bill receives consideration as it is we would oppose it although naturally, we'll help with any amendments that are proposed," Farber said.

He added that the association decided it would call for a complete study of the reorganization plans by the State Council of Education, to be submitted to the Legislature by Jan. 1, 1957.

"That way (with specific regions outlined) we'd know what we're talking about," Farber said.

He added that personally, he feels the present bill "doesn't have much chance to pass—from what I've observed."

Sen. Wagner (R-Schuylkill), a co-sponsor of the bill, has not indicated if or when his Education Committee would act on it.

WARNS AGAINST FALSE SECURITY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) says the United States must not be "lulled into a false sense of security" by the so-called peace offensives of the Soviet Union.

In a speech before the 59th annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Martin said last night:

"The United States stands as the one strong barrier against the Communist conspiracy to dominate and enslave the entire world. . . . we must not lower our guard just because the Soviet propaganda has taken a new turn."

Modern Danger

Turning to other subjects, Martin deplored what he called "big government" as "one of the most threatening dangers of our times."

In outlining divisions of power among the various levels of government, Martin said state functions should include conservation of natural resources, health and sanitation, mental institutions, penal institutions, higher education and through roads.

To finance these services, the state should have corporation taxes, inheritance taxes, gas and oil taxes and sales taxes, he added, but made no reference to the current tax impasses in the General Assembly.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A frugal father with three sons saves a pretty penny by giving the boys their

DUCHESS SAYS WOODWARDS "IDEAL COUPLE"

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor says she regarded as an "ideal couple" blonde Mrs. Ann Woodward and her socialite sportsman husband whom she shot to death in their Oyster Bay, Long Island, home.

The Duchess was the honored guest at a party attended by the Woodwards last Saturday night.

Early Sunday morning Mrs. Woodward, who said later she was alarmed by a noise she connected with a prowler in the neighborhood — fired a double-barreled shotgun in the darkness and killed her 35-year-old husband.

The couple, who occupied separate bedrooms, each went to bed armed with a shotgun after returning from the party. The shotgun blast caught Woodward as he stood, unslad and unarmed, in the hallway near his room.

Duchess Is Questioned
The Duchess of Windsor was questioned yesterday in her suite at the Waldorf Towers in New York City by two Nassau County police officials, Asst. Chief Inspector James Farrell and Detective William Garrett.

Later, Detective Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell quoted her as saying:

"I have known the Woodwards about 12 years and had met them on several occasions before the party. I spoke to them Saturday night, complimenting Mr. Woodward on the achievements of his horse, Nashua, and exchanging greetings with Mrs. Woodward."

"Then I left the group to join some other people. I knew of no trouble between them and regarded the Woodwards as an ideal couple."

Others Questioned
Pinnell said detectives thus far have questioned about a score of the approximately 58 persons who

Few Dentists Are Available For Call

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Selective service headquarters says "very few" Pennsylvania dentists will be available to answer a national call of 119 dentists for induction into the armed services.

Col. Henry M. Gross, state selective service director, said yesterday the call is for dentists under 35 years of age in these categories:

Those deferred for training with less than 90 days of military service; those deferred with more than 90 days of military service and those with no military service.

were at the party.

Nassau County authorities also are probing reports of two telephone calls — one assertedly received by Woodward while he was at the party, and another call reportedly made by the 39-year-old Mrs. Woodward after her husband was shot and before she phoned police.

As for the report of a call by Mrs. Woodward, Pinnell said: "It seems to me ridiculous on the face of it, but naturally we're checking it."

Bonneauville

BONNEAUVILLE — The regular monthly meeting of the NCOW of St. Joseph's parish was held Sunday evening in the parish hall. Miss Marie Kuhn, the president, presided. Routine business was disposed of and plans were made for the clothing collection to be held in November. Plans also were made for the Christmas party to be held on December 12 at Weaver's Restaurant.

Mrs. Charles Myers and Mrs. James Eck were male honorary members of the council. After adjournment, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Agnes Bercau and Mrs. Carrie Unger, of Waynesboro, and Mrs. Joseph Groft, of South Mountain, visited Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Claggett, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hannigan, York, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Groft, South Mountain, spent Tuesday with James Groft.

Merchants Draw Odds Over Nods

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Winking was declared a part of free enterprise in a peace bond hearing between two clothing store owners. One of the owners, whose store is three doors from the other merchant, took lusty swings at the chin of his competitor who "winks and nods his head when a customer starts into my store."

"I don't know how to wink," retorted the accused. He added that he was going to take winking lessons and hereafter "wink for wink" and "nod for nod" for enticing customers.

After all, they agreed, "we both believe in free enterprise."

New Labor Building Boasts $17.50 Mail Boxes, $7.50 Ash Trays, Luxurious Rugs

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL teamsters union, self-styled "world's largest labor union," planned to dedicate a five million dollar white marble headquarters today with appropriate, Hollywood-like ceremonies.

All of Washington's million-odd citizens were invited in four solid pages of newspaper ads to watch the opening ceremonies featuring AFL chiefs and a contingent of movie stars, including Walter Pidgeon and Jack Haley.

The building is separated only by a stretch of lawn from the nation's Capitol. But the classic, domed home of Congress looked positively antique compared with the modernistic, sharply-designed teamsters headquarters, replete guided visitors through masses of with blue-tinted picture windows, penthouse and piped music.

Inside, uniformed attendants guided visitors through masses of flowers over rugs of luxurious thickness. Just the small ashtrays cost $7.50 each, bronze boxes for outgoing mail on each desk $17.50. Everything was paid for in cash.

Built For Future
"We didn't build for today," teamsters President Dave Beck told some fellow union members ahead of the ceremony. "We built for the next 25 or 30 years."

This labor union was begun in 1903 as an organization of horse-drawn wagon drivers. It now claims 1,400,000 truck drivers and assorted other workers as members, and no one doubted today it has really arrived. A press release said now "the union thinks on a coast-to-coast basis."

President Eisenhower sent congratulations from Denver. "It is fitting," he messaged Beck, "that this structure be built in the capital of a free republic which accords to labor and its representatives their equal and rightful place in its social and economic life."

The occasion pointed up the growing trend of labor unions, intent on making themselves heard in national policy-making, to move their main offices to Washington and acquire permanent quarters here.

Beck reported that in his 2½ years as president of the teamsters, the union had picked up 300,000 members and, partially by re-investing funds at higher interest rates, had parlayed its treasury from 23 to 32 million dollars.

DEATHS

NEW YORK — Rabbi Samuel Schulman, 91, noted scholar and orator, rabbi emeritus of Temple Emanuel, Fifth Ave. and 65th St., and who was credited with coining the phrase "melting pot" in a 1907 sermon to describe New York's assimilation of all races. Died Wednesday.

DURHAM, England — Charles Whiteley, 73, for 30 years a member of Parliament and a former chief whip of the Labor party. Died Thursday.

BALDOCK, England — Dr. Albert Victor Ballie, 91, former Anglican dean of Windsor and for many years registrar of the Order of the Garter, Britain's highest order of chivalry. Died Thursday.

NEWARK, Del. — Dr. Gilbert Owen Sypher, 78, a former president and the only university professor emeritus of the University of Maryland, widely known as a scholar of English literature. Born in Zion, Md. Died Thursday.

TURNPIKE WILL ADOPT NEW TOLL PLAN FOR TRUCKS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission early next year will mechanize its method of determining tolls to be charged for trucks using the superhighway.

Commissioner David E. Watson, said Jan. 1 is the date set for putting into operation automatic scales that will determine the weight class into which each truck falls for the purpose of setting toll charges.

Installation of the scales is almost completed along the present 360-mile expanse of the highway. Watson described the new system as an automatic "weight classification."

Under the present method, attendants at the interchanges charge according to the classification of the truck as designated by the first letter in the Pennsylvania registration plate.

Use Tire Size
The attendants use the tire size of the driving wheels on out-of-state trucks to arrive at a classification for toll charges.

At least one, and in some instances, more than one of the scales will be in operation at each interchange along the highway.

The scales, which merely will indicate into what classification a particular truck shall be placed — based on the gross weight of the vehicle — are being rented from the International Business Machine Corp.

Under the new system, trucks operating their vehicles over the turnpike without a load or only part of a capacity load, will stand to profit.

Under the present system, regardless of how little cargo weight a truck has, the toll is based on the full charge for the classification into which it is registered.

May Pay More
In some instances, trucks heavily loaded will have to pay more than they would now if they have sufficient excess weight to put them into a new classification.

The scales will not give the actual weight of the truck but only show a classification designation. If a trucker loses his toll ticket en route between interchanges, his vehicle will be reweighed before he leaves the turnpike to set his toll rate.

The scales now are in use on the Ohio Turnpike.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike at present has 29 interchanges. However, several more will be added soon when a 37-mile section of the north-eastern extension is opened late this month.

The turnpike attendants, as in the past, will play no part in determining if trucks are carrying more than the legal gross weight limit.

Many Drivers Ignore License Suspension

DETROIT (AP) — Half of all motorists in the state whose drivers' licenses are revoked or suspended continue to drive, says the Automobile Club of Michigan. It made a study in 40 Michigan cities and a number of rural areas.

Club General Manager E. S. Matheson says the problem "is one of apprehension and punishment." He said "stiffer penalties would help." The current maximum sentence for the misdemeanor is 90 days in jail or a $100 fine, or both.

REMOVE INK STAIN

Soap and water should remove water-soluble mimeograph ink stains from washable fabrics. If not, the stain might be oil-base and those spots must be rubbed with glycerine and washed in hot soapsuds and then rinsed.

VINEGAR BEND NOW IN CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Twenty players who finished the baseball season with major league teams are playing winter ball in the four-team Cuban League.

The Havana Reds, managed by Adolfo Luque, have the most prized possession in Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, the fastball southpaw belonging to the St. Louis Cardinals. Mizell has been in the Army the last two years and reports back to the Cards next spring. He won 10 games for them as a 1952 rookie and 13 in 1953.

Also with Havana are Ed Roebuck and Sandy Amoros of the champion Brooklyn Dodgers, Vicente Amor of the Chicago Cubs and three other Cardinals — Don Blasingame, Dick Rand and Bobby Stephenson.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

JESUS MEETS HUMAN NEEDS

Luke 12:5-15, 27-32

Key Verse: Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick: I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. Luke 5:31-32

The rejection of Jesus in His home synagogue at Nazareth did not produce in Him a defeatist's attitude. His purpose was strengthened and He went on to Capernaum where He preached and healed. This thriving, busy town along the Sea of Galilee became His headquarters and from there He went out on many tours, wherever the need seemed greatest.

Jesus' ministry to the sick and suffering and His sympathetic response to human needs is the keynote of this particular lesson. The Scripture passages are from the fifth and first part of the sixth chapters of the Gospel of Luke.

In them Jesus travels throughout Galilee winning friends and followers. His personality, His divine power, and His works of mercy distinguished Him from any other human being. Yet Jesus did not set Himself apart; He loved people and associated with them, socially, whenever His rigorous schedule permitted.

People Flocked To Him

As He became known and His fame as a healer was told and retold, people with all manner of disease flocked to Him. In chapter 5:12-16 is the story of the healing of a leper — a man regarded as unclean and an outcast in the community. In those days leprosy was a living death. It was customary for people to associate bodily illness with those who were guilty of sin, so in healing this man of his physical infirmity Jesus could have been putting into action the promise of forgiveness of sins. For miracles of healing both body and spirit had to be cleansed and renewed.

Naturally some of these acts were observed and criticized by the Pharisees, the religious leaders. Jesus seemed to be assuming too much authority and they resented His explanations of the law. Furthermore, Jesus mingled with all sorts of people, even disreputable ones — publicans, sinners, tax collectors and the like.

What manner of Preacher was He? And why did He seek out the sinners, the miserable, the unfortunate? To His countrymen Jesus was a social enigma; to the Pharisees and Sadducees, a rank heretic.

To carry out His program Jesus needed devoted followers to assist Him and give full-time service in spreading the Gospel. Consequently, He began by calling four fishermen. The call of Simon Peter and the miraculous catch of fish is told beautifully by St. Luke in chapter 5:1-11. It resembles the narrative in John, but scholars think that Luke fit it into the narrative at this point in keeping with the special purpose of his gospel. The draught of fishes may have foreshadowed the great body of worshippers whom Peter later brought into the Christian way of life.

"Despised By Jews"

But to go out and deliberately seek a tax collector was a different matter. Matthew was one of a class thoroughly despised by the Jews, for they had a reputation for greed and injustice. Possibly Matthew knew something about Jesus, for tradition has it that his father, Alphaeus, was married to a sister of Mary, mother of Jesus. At any rate Matthew may have been weary of his job; he accepted Jesus' call at once, and later became the writer of the first gospel which was written specially for the Romans. Then the Pharisees and their scribes murmured against Jesus' disciples, asking, "Why do you eat with tax collectors and sinners?" Jesus' answer was this: "Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick: I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

Here Jesus used the word "righteous" ironically. What He meant was that even good people need a change of mind and there are no bad people who are completely hopeless. This was a very different interpretation to these haughty leaders! They tried to make Jesus feel that He was doing the cause of religion real harm. But their complaints and accusations did not restrain our Lord from carrying out His purposes.

The original impulse for Christian social service which is the relief of physical and social ills that beset mankind is the result of Jesus Christ's example as He lived and worked here on earth. Service prompted by love gave the pagan world a new pattern. Jesus wanted to heal sin-sick souls as well as disease-infested bodies.

Another import accent of this lesson is the readiness to accept the Master's call. He claims our loyalty and service in His name. His call to service cannot be pushed aside lightly. If we fail

Him, we fail those to whom His message must go.

COOKS' RECIPES DATE BACK TO COLONIAL DAYS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Helen Duprey Bullock will be cooking, and practically "cooked along with the dinner" like the Colonial housekeeper, when she lectures on "The Frugal American Housewife" this year.

She is historian for the National Trust for Historic Preservation, which with the New York State Historical Assn. is presenting seminars on American culture at the famed Farmer's Museum, Cooperstown, N.Y. She was invited to lecture at the seminars when she visited the historic spot last year. Curious to try out the 18th century bread board, mixing bowls and beehive ovens built into the side of the fireplace, she suddenly found her self elbow-deep in bread dough.

"Visitors kept asking if I were a part of the exhibit," she told me.

Booklet Description
Mrs. Bullock's course is described in a seminar booklet as "a concentrated study of domestic economy in the frontier and post-frontier periods...designed to give students a sense of the problems of every-day family management as they were met and solved by the people."

"I plan to give actual demonstrations of the colonial cookery over an open hearth and oven, making soups, stews, pound cake, apple butter and breads," she explained. "I will demonstrate how the frugal housewife had to get along with the things she had at hand—an unlimited supply of freshly churned butter, fresh eggs, milk, cream, buttermilk, hard, wonderful flour milled on the place, herbs, fresh fruits and vegetables. Of course, I will have to be cautious—not throw around the pepper and store-bought luxuries. I will enjoy being frugal, I'm sure."

Colonial Archivist
As archivist for colonial Williamsburg, Va., from 1929 to 1939, Mrs. Bullock became fascinated with the recipes of the pre-revolutionary era and wrote "The Williamsburg Art of Cookery," now in its sixth printing.

Mrs. Bullock also worked at the University of Virginia Library and the Library of Congress, cataloging Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln papers. She says she has learned to see history in three dimensions.

"History," she says, "isn't just great political events. You can see it in architecture, feel it in fabrics and taste it in cooking."

Stamp News

By WINTHROP S. BOGGS

Nine years ago The Philatelic Foundation first offered a course in stamp collecting under the title of "The Foundations of Philately." The course was specially designed to guide the adult seeking a sound basis of philatelic knowledge and practice.

In order to do this it was necessary to arrange it in such a way that while no previous knowledge of stamps was necessary, it would be of value to the more experienced collectors who were seeking a broader background for the understanding of various phases of the hobby with which they were unfamiliar.

The amazing success of these courses, which have always been well attended, not only was encouraging in showing that the basic purpose was attained, but from the questions asked, and the experience gathered we were able to improve upon them in various ways, so that by now a well rounded presentation of philately is offered.

Good Presentation
The lectures and demonstrations are so arranged that they afford considerable flexibility in their presentation. For example the simplest form results in 10 one-hour meetings. The most detailed and fullest discussion is 15 such meeting of one and a half hours. The schedule of 10 one and a half hour meetings has proven the most popular, and has drawn the largest attendance. Still another way of offering the courses is to divide the lectures into elementary, and advanced, each consisting of 10 one-hour classes.

During the past few years the courses have been given by the Philatelic Foundation for the Institute of Arts and Sciences, Columbia University. It is planned to offer a course this fall again, and as heretofore it will consist of 10 lectures and demonstrations of one and a half hours each.

Courses Successful
The success of these courses has caused the Philatelic Foundation to become interested in making the information contained in them available to those not fortunate enough to be able to attend the New York classes, or not living near the great philatelic centers. There was also the problem of presenting it in a compact manner for practical use.

It was finally decided this problem could best be solved by the publication of a book embodying the material contained in these lectures, suitably adapted, and well illustrated. As a matter of fact more than five years ago the necessary notes were prepared, and the actual manuscript was begun. The final manuscript was the result of much writing and re-writing, and finally it was turned over to the printers for setting type. The book is scheduled for publication in both New York and London this fall, the final proofs having been approved.

As the preface says the "book is intended as a guide for the individual collector seeking a sound basis of philatelic knowledge and practice. It may serve also as a textbook for the use of leaders and members of classes in philately, which may be conducted by clubs, societies, schools or other educational institutions." The book itself is divided into three sections, namely, "Historical," "Practical," and "Technical," thus making it possible to arrange courses based on it in the ways we have previously mentioned.

Navy, Coast Guard To Rescue Old Hoax

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Navy plane reported a 60-foot vessel swamped near Fisherman's Island. Three minutes later a Coast Guard patrol boat was underway to render assistance. Within five minutes a buoy tender was off to help. The Navy sent a helicopter.

Then came the embarrassing report: the "swamped" vessel was only the barnacle hull of a long abandoned boat.

The buoy tender removed it as a menace to navigation.

The publication of such a book as this should do much to encourage the establishment of classes and study groups in philately, as well as set the standards for the teaching of the fundamental aspects of the hobby. Thus there will no longer be any reason why a correct and consistent method of presenting philately cannot be offered throughout the English speaking world, regardless of how far from the centers of philatelic activity any individual or group may be.

LOS LUNAS, N. M. (AP)—Vicente Otero Sr. isn't at all concerned with the reports that crop up frequently that Billy the Kid didn't get shot to death that night in Fort Sumner and is still alive. DEDICATION SET FOR EXTENSION TO PA. TURNPIKE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader said Thursday a 37-mile section of the northeastern extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike would be dedicated Nov. 22 and possibly opened to traffic the following day.

Leader made the announcement through his office after talking with Turnpike Commission Chairman G. Franklin McSorley.

The new section is the first to be completed of a 110-mile extension to run from Plymouth meeting, near Norristown, to north of Scranton.

The announcement said "appropriate ceremonies" will be held at the southern terminus of the extension at Plymouth Meeting.

Other ceremonies will be held at Lansdale, Quakertown, and the Lehigh Valley interchanges. The section ends at the Lehigh Valley interchange near Allentown.

The announcement said Nov. 23 has been "tentatively" set for opening the roadway to traffic.

Date Depends On Weather
The Turnpike Commission said weather conditions will determine if the section will be opened to traffic on that date.

Some work has yet to be completed on the 37-mile stretch, the commission said.

The entire extension is expected to be opened to traffic next fall. The 110-mile extension, when completed, will bring to 470 miles

EYE ANY SLUMP IN HOME BUYING

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The top federal housing official said Thursday the government is keeping a sharp watch for any slump in home buying and "will not hesitate" when "conditions so recommend."

Albert M. Cole, Housing and Home Finance Agency administrator, at the same time defended the stiffer home mortgage requirements imposed last summer as needed to ward off possible inflation.

In an address prepared for the Mortgage Bankers Assn. annual convention, he said, "It would have been ironic in the extreme if demand for certain short-supply building materials had resulted, not in added houses, but only in boosting the prices of all houses."

The Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration last July raised the down-payment minimum 2 per cent and trimmed from 30 to 25 years the maximum length of mortgages which they would insure. The Federal Reserve board also had taken some steps aimed at tightening credit.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—President Joao Cafe Filho suffered a heart attack Wednesday night and physicians said he would be compelled to undergo a period of complete rest. They said however, his condition is not serious.

The total length of the toll road.

The northeastern extension will have eight interchanges and will cost an estimated 230 million dollars.

GASOLINE BLAZE RAVISHES PORT

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Three persons died in a spectacular fire which threatened Wednesday night to wipe out this river port 25 miles west of Birmingham.

Gasoline fumes exploded, throwing flames more than 100 feet high but three men risked their lives to turn off valves leading into huge gasoline storage tanks and the blaze was brought under control.

Dead were Felton Thrasher, 46, plant superintendent for the Triangle Refineries, Inc.; his daughter, Tina May, 20, and Olen K. Dodd, 23.

Bodies Found In Debris
Thrasher died in a Birmingham hospital Thursday morning. Bodies of the other two, missing since the blaze began, were found in the debris.

No estimate of the damage was available. R. W. Reynolds, division manager of Triangle, said his plant storage capacity was six million gallons but he could not estimate the loss. Damage was confined almost entirely to the docks, the Triangle plant and to a few small houses nearby.

ASKS NO FAVORS IN ARMY MIX-UP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-NM) returned Thursday from a six-week European tour declaring "I never asked for any special favors" in connection with the trip. Chavez, chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee which handles military funds, told reporters he did not know anything about a request for a special plane to bring him home until he read of it in the papers. He and his wife flew in today on a regularly scheduled Military Air Transport flight.

Make Request
The Defense Department said last month that Chavez and two other senators in his party, McClellan (D-Ark) and Stennis (D-Miss), had asked for special planes to return them to the United States and that these were being sent. However, the Pentagon later said there had been a misunderstanding—that the senators had made no such request—and issued an apology to them.

CAIRO (AP)—An Egyptian military spokesman said Thursday that in a successful counterattack Egyptian forces have recaptured the El Sabha post in the El Auja demilitarized zone.

The spokesman said 200 Israeli soldiers were killed in the battle which started last night and "some others taken prisoner."

Argentine Readies Labor Agreement

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Thousands of workers were expected to return to their jobs as the result of an agreement between the provisional government and labor supporters of ousted President Juan D. Peron.

The agreement was announced Wednesday night, after a week-long wrangle between government and Peronista leaders of the General Confederation of Labor (CGT). The pact was expected to draw heated objections from anti-Peronista labor leaders.

Thousands of workers in key industries remained off their jobs yesterday, defying government warnings and CGT orders calling off a general strike.

Juror Falls Asleep; Held In Contempt

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Trial of a damage suit was halted yesterday when Dist. Judge C. F. Holt observed a juror sleeping in the jury box.

Holt said the juror, John Givona of Stockert, has been found in contempt. The judge has under advisement what penalty should be imposed.

Holt ordered the juror confined to the Cascade County jail overnight and to appear in court this morning "in proper condition."

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—"Down-town Pittsburgh," said the sign on an overpass near here and about 250 miles from Pittsburgh. Motorist gasped, "Where am I?"

ATTENTION

Voters Of Adams County

In response to many persistent inquiries, here are the facts about a judge's pension and retirement.

- (1) My father, Judge Donald P. McPherson, never accepted a pension or retirement.
- (2) For the past seven years I have been eligible to join the State Employees' Retirement Fund, but I am not a member and I will not join.
- (3) There is no judge's pension today. To get retirement a judge has to join the State Employees' Retirement Fund like any other State employee.
- (4) The judge's salary is paid by the State.
- (5) If an employee leaves State employment voluntarily he is not entitled to retirement unless he has served 25 years or is age 60. What he has paid in to the fund is returned to him with interest.
- (6) Since my opponent is a candidate for another 10 years, if defeated, he would retire involuntarily and would be eligible for a retirement annuity under Option 1 of $3,000.00 per year, with a minimum to be received of $38,000.00, of which amount $12,000.00 is contributed by him and $26,000.00 by the State taxpayers.
- (7) It will cost more if my opponent is elected for another 10 years because his retirement annuity under Option 1 under present conditions at the end of 30 years would be $8,400.00 per year, with a minimum to be received of $76,000.00, of which $20,000.00 is contributed by him and $56,000.00 by the State taxpayers.

If you, the taxpayer, want Economy in Government, Vote for McPherson for Judge.

He will do the job well and he will not accept any retirement.

BREAKING SOUND BARRIER IS OLD HAT TO PILOTS

By ROBERT HUNT

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A jet airplane cracks the sound barrier and somewhere in an area up to 35 miles away newspapers and police switchboards can be flooded with telephone calls.

The reason: "sonic booms." Just what is a boom? It's a phenomenon of nature set up when any object or impulse moves through the atmosphere faster than the speed of sound.

One or a group of sonic waves are set up, creating the sound, which in the case of a plane can resemble a single or double explosion or a distant momentary rumble. Actually, it's nothing new. The crack of a whip or rifle bullet is a sonic report, only small in intensity. But the boom from jets has come to us since the late 1940s when only a few planes could reach supersonic speeds, and then only in dives.

Now the most advanced military fighters can far exceed the speed of sound in level flight, setting up the chain reaction on the ground below as they reach velocities approaching 1,000 miles an hour. But the pilot knows only from a small meter in the plane that he's passed the mark.

Phillip Houghton, 35-year-old senior experimental test pilot for McDonnell Aircraft Corp. who's broken the barrier hundreds of times, explains it this way:

"Probably the most interesting sensation about breaking the sonic barrier is the complete lack of any sensation at all."

Smooth Transition

Houghton says the transition to supersonic flight is made smoothly and the average pilot of these planes can "slip back and forth across the barrier many times in one flight without thinking much about it."

And everytime it's done, by a law of nature, a sonic wave pattern is set up which Air Force research estimates can be heard from 15 to 35 miles away.

Whether it will be heard, and just how loudly, depends largely on atmospheric conditions at the moment.

Prevent Public Inconvenience
Pilots who fly at these speeds are instructed to maintain high altitudes to minimize public inconvenience but the booms don't always cooperate.

Property damage from the booms is extremely rare under normal atmospheric conditions and, if you're worried, Air Force research shows there are no known cases of adverse effects on the human body.

Birds Grow Sky High Corn Crop

CHICAGO (AP) — Pigeons atop the Gresham Methodist Church have a corn crop this year — they grew it themselves.

Rev. E. Lester said he discovered a corn stalk growing in a rain gutter near a pigeon's nest. He had only one explanation:

Kernels of corn carried to the nest by the pigeons were dropped into dirt in the gutter and grew.

Salesman Meditates For Year Of Sundays

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Sunday is a good day for meditation and Robert A. Moore will have a chance to meditate for 52 of them in jail. The former insurance salesman was charged with forging checks to cover premiums on fictitious policies and sentenced to two years in prison. But since he had paid the money back even before the charges were brought Judge Dirk Kuyk whittled the sentence to 52 days — to be served on successive Sundays.

Philippines Discover First Nickel In East

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines has unearthed what experts say is the first and largest deposit of nickel ore — a strategic war material — in the Far East.

Agriculture Secretary Juan De G. Rodriguez announced the discovery of 29 million metric tons of iron deposits containing 1.38 per cent nickel ore on Nonoc island, off the northeast tip of Mindanao island in the southern Philippines.

Pedro Rabbit Taboo Because Of Habits

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The time is coming when you won't find hide nor hare of the San Juan rabbit in the U.S.A.

Pennsylvania has just joined the list of states banning the importation of Peter Rabbit's big cousin Pedro because of his bad habits and a fatal weakness.

The San Juan rabbit not only is had on the farmer's crops but his nocturnal digging encourages erosion. And worst of all, like European rabbits he's subject to myxomatosis, the dread virus that has virtually cleared western Europe of hares.

Slick Jewel Thief Fools The Public

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Police have been unable to solve the mystery of a $5,000 diamond burglary in a downtown jewelry store although the crime apparently occurred before hundreds of Helena shoppers. The bold burglar snatched the loot from a display window between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Passerby evidently thought the person was an employee changing the window, police said.

CHARTERED BUS SMACKS TRUCK; NURSE KILLED

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — A chartered bus loaded with student nurses from Charlotte crashed into a truck 15 miles north of here early Thursday morning. One nurse was killed and 32 were injured. Some of those hurt are in critical condition.

The dead nurse was identified as Clara Jean Dillingham, 19, of R. 2, Weaverville, N. C.

The bus was demolished. Ambulances took the injured to hospitals in Concord, 7 miles north of the accident scene, and in Charlotte.

The nurses were aboard an Atlantic Greyhound bus returning to Charlotte from Winston-Salem, N.C., where they had attended the convention of the North Carolina Nurses Assn.

Highway patrolman W.A. Nichols said the bus was traveling about 55 miles an hour when it rammed into the stalled tractor-trailer truck.

39 Nurses Aboard
Nichols said the bus carried 39 nurses and the driver, George Robert Allen, 29, of Charlotte, who suffered minor injuries. Six of the nurses escaped injury.

Nichols and Patrolman C. C. Tilley were trailing the bus at the time of the accident. He said the truck had almost stalled and the driver was attempting to pull off

Railroad Workers To Strike On Nov. 6

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (Ind.) Thursday called a strike for 6 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 6, against the Pennsylvania Railroad. The walkout will affect 8,000 members employed by the PRR.

The strike decision was reached because of the railroad's failure to "conduct negotiations on 585 unsettled personnel cases in keeping with provisions of the Railroad Act," a union spokesman said.

A spokesman for the railroad said the charge that it had failed to engage in collective bargaining was without foundation.

The four-lane highway.

The patrolman said the bus ripped into a side of the trailer, scattering a cargo of cigarettes over the road, and then ran into a ditch.

"All the lights were out on the bus when we pulled up beside it," Nichols said. "The doors jammed shut. There was all sorts of crying and hollering inside the bus. Patrolman Tilley climbed through a hole and started pulling out the student nurses. All of them were bloody. Many of them were badly hurt."

The tractor-trailer, owned by Great Southern, was driven by Harold Rich of Durham, N. C.

COURT UPHOLDS POSTAL BOOST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increased parcel post rates which became effective Oct. 1, 1953, were upheld Thursday by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

In a unanimous decision, the court sustained a lower court's dismissal of a suit brought by a group of greeting card manufacturers challenging the action of Postmaster General Summerfield in raising the rates.

Summerfield asked and received from the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to increase parcel post rates by about 30 percent. The rise increased government revenue from parcel post by about 200 million dollars a year.

The greeting card makers challenged the higher rates only as applied to them. The court's opinion, however, was broad enough to cover all the increases.

In their suit, the greeting card makers contended Summerfield applied for the consent of the ICC for the higher rates without first making a finding from experience that the costs were more than the receipts from a certain class of mail.

The appellate court said Summerfield "proceeded in accordance with his construction of the statutory direction," adding: "He was rational in his action and not arbitrary or capricious."

MAY TEST NEW GRIPPE VACCINE ON U.S. RECRUITS

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new vaccine against the "grippe" may be tested this winter on 10,000 military recruits.

Public Health Service doctors disclosed the possibility yesterday, but said they must first make additional safety and potency tests of the vaccine, and get official military approval.

The new vaccine is designed to protect against three of the 10 or more APC viruses which cause some respiratory or cold-type illnesses. Doctors say the vaccine is meant for the kind that "most people refer to as the 'grippe' rather than the runny-nose, nonfeverish common cold."

Tentative plans for the new test were announced along with a report that another vaccine had provided "substantial protection" against one of the three viruses. The APC group of viruses gets its name from the adenoidal, pharyngeal (throat) and conjunctival (eye) tissues which they usually attack. Discovered several years ago, they constitute only one group among many different germs which can cause cold-type illnesses of varying degrees of severity, and many different forms.

Special For Military

The vaccine already tested in humans — with indications of providing "substantial protection" — is designed against only one of the APC viruses — Type 3. But this type is a common cause of respiratory illness, marked by fever, sore throat and conjunctivitis, or "red eye."

The newer vaccine is designed against Types 3, 4 and 7 which, said Dr. Robert Huebner of the Health Service, "have been shown . . . to be responsible for a large part of respiratory diseases occurring in military populations." That is the reason for the proposed military testing.

The Health Service and Johns Hopkins University jointly announced the "successful clinical trial" of the Type 3 vaccine among

CASH RECEIPTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Agriculture reports the cash receipts of Pennsylvania farm marketings totaled $492,142,000 for the first eight months of 1955 compared to $493,151,000 for the like 1954 period.

This two per cent decline came in receipts from the marketing of livestock and livestock products. The 1955 Keystone State total amounted to $376,381,000 compared with $378,119,000 for the 1954 period.

The overall comparable national totals were $16,670,613,000 for 1955 and $17,327,375,000 for 1954.

The state's cash receipts for marketing of crops totaled $115,761,000 this year, a slight increase over the $115,032,000 in 1954.

U. S. EMPLOYEE TOOK U.S. PAPERS TO PROVE CLAIM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A former employe of the Frankford Army Arsenal here said Thursday he purposely took documents from supposedly secured files to demonstrate to his superiors what he felt were lax security measures.

Joseph S. Shields Jr., 31, an Air Force veteran, said he returned the files three days later after first going to Washington, D. C., and offering them to a member of Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) staff.

Shields said the staff member advised him to return the documents to the commanding general of the arsenal, Brig. Gen. Joseph Colby.

Shields said that as he was explaining his actions to a civilian security officer at the arsenal, Lt. Col. Prentiss Reed, an arsenal official, entered the room and "blew his top."

Resigned Voluntarily
"I showed Col. Reed how classified materials could be removed from the drawer. He said that cabinet would have to be repaired and I told him it was supposed to be repaired. I turned the papers over to Col. Reed and he said he would see they got back to the proper files."

Shields said he resigned voluntarily later that day.

Frankford Arsenal is a government manufacturing site for small arms ammunition and storage area for explosives.

Norman McCabe, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Philadelphia, said the FBI was making an investigation to determine whether any federal laws had been violated in connection with the removal of the documents. Otherwise, McCabe said, the FBI would have no comment to make now.

An arsenal spokesman said a statement probably would be issued later Thursday.

Shields declined to disclose the nature of the documents he took. He said there were a half-dozen all stamped "confidential" and dated as recently as Oct. 12, 1955.

poor security conditions at the arsenal, Shields said "I have no doubt I could break in there and put a bomb in the center of the powder area. There would be little possibility of being caught — unless things are much tighter since I left."

Shields said he had first reported the faulty file cabinet from which he took the documents six months before he actually removed anything.

He said that, although off duty at the time, he had entered the arsenal at 10 p.m. Oct. 15 without trouble, went immediately to the second floor where the documents were located and removed them.

He said a security patrolman came in as he was taking the material. When he gave his name, the patrolman left, said Shields.

He said he dropped the envelope containing the documents out a window, walked outside and picked them up and was not searched as he left the grounds.

The Truth Must Be Known

My opponent must know that the matter of the judge's retirement has been an issue from the beginning of this campaign. It was in response to many inquiries and to bring the truth before the voters that the matter was made public.

My understanding is that under an opinion of the Attorney General any detailed information regarding an employee's own retirement is not public information until he has retired. Until then such information can be made public only by the employee.

My father did not accept pension or retirement, and I will carry on that tradition.

There are a number of issues in this campaign. One of the main issues is whether or not the administration of justice in two counties should rest in the hands of one man for a generation. The answer in this judicial district to this question has always been No.
